Additional colours may be yielded by working over Perma-Colour colour hardened or skim coated substrates and/or modifying Patina™ stained surfaces with Perma-Colour concrete dyes. The result is that this colour chart can be extended to a virtually limitless palette of beautiful and versatile colours.

The colour effects produced by Perma-Colour Patina™ acid stains are unique to each concrete surface and may differ from those shown above. Wide variations, mottling and unevenness of colour should be expected and are normally desired. Colour choice should therefore be achieved through detailed discussion, identification of colour influencing factors and samples for on site testing.

PERMA-COLOUR PATINA

Patina[®] acid stains chemically react with the minerals present in concrete, transforming ordinary flooring into a luxurious looking glazed stone or marble affect. Patina[®] acid stains are not paints or coatings and do not cover up but rather work with the existing substrate, thus providing naturally variegated, mottled and/or translucent colour patterns. It will not chip, fade or peel and will last the lifetime of the surface to which it is applied, thus creating permanence and durability unsurpassed by any flooring.

A variety of sealers and floor finishes enhance the elegant Patina[®] stained floor creating depth of colour and virtually maintenance free surface protection.
